

Regulatory Policy

Scala Consultancy Limited t/a Scala Consultancy (referred to as “we”, “us”, “our” and “Scala Consultancy”) is a business and commercial affairs consultancy which specialises in the provision of business and commercial affairs advice to companies, organisations and individuals.

Scala Consultancy is not a law firm and does not hold itself out as a provider of legal services and legal advice. Scala Consultancy is not regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority. You will therefore instruct us as professional business and commercial affairs advisers and consultants, and not as solicitors. We will act honestly and professionally at all times.

Our professional indemnity insurance will protect both you and us in case things go wrong. Further details of our cover are set out in our client Standard Terms of Business.

Correspondence between us and our clients will not normally be subject to legal advice privilege (in the way that it is with solicitors and barristers). This means that it could be disclosable to the court or any opponent in pre-trial or court proceedings. Our relationship with you is therefore on the same legal footing as any other general or financial business adviser and/or consultant.

You do not have the right to raise complaints with the Legal Ombudsman. Our complaints procedure is set out in our client Standard Terms of Business.
